Dear Copyright Holder:

SAE International, a Pennsylvania not-for-profit corporation (“SAE”) is currently developing a manuscript for publication that is tentatively entitled: _____.
The estimated publication date is _____.

As the identified copyright holder of record, SAE is requesting permission to include the material, as listed on page two of this request, in this and all subsequent editions of the above referenced work, in all media expression now known or later developed, including use within learning management systems, foreign language translations, digital database delivery, other derivative works, and in any customization prepared and published by SAE or its licensees for print and/or distribution throughout the world. SAE requests special permission for use by nonprofit organizations to support the aid by blind or physically handicapped individuals and to adapt the format of the material to fit the technical requirements of any digital delivery system now known or later developed. SAE also requests permission to use the material in conjunction with the marketing and promotion of the work. Appropriate accreditation will be given as provided here within.

Please indicate that you agree with the terms as requested by signing and returning this letter. In signing, you warrant to SAE that you/your organization are/is the sole copyright owner(s) of this material, you have the authority to grant republication permissions on the behalf of the copyright owner, and/or that said copyright does not infringe on the copyright or other rights of any other parties. If you do not control these rights, SAE would appreciate a written response indicating as such, and if possible, assistance in identifying with whom SAE should apply.

Thank you in advance for your assistance.

Sincerely,

Intellectual Property & Content Licensing
SAE International Content Management
