License of Publishing Rights

The Owner hereby grants to SAE International a non-exclusive publishing and distribution license in the manuscript identified above and any tables, illustrations, or other material submitted for publication as part of the manuscript (the "Article") in all forms and media (whether now known or later developed), throughout the world, in all languages, for the full term of copyright, effective when the Article is accepted for publication. This license includes the right to enforce the rights granted by this license against third parties and to sublicense such rights.

In order to expedite the editing and publishing process and enable SAE to disseminate your Article to the fullest extent, SAE needs to have this Open Access Agreement executed. Publication cannot proceed without a signed copy of this Agreement and payment of the appropriate Article Publication Charge.

Terms of Use

1. The Article will be made Open Access under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial License (CC BY-NC), which permits use, distribution, modification, and reproduction in any medium, provided that the Article is properly cited, the use is non-commercial, and indications are given for any changes made.
2. The Owner may make use of the submitted and peer-reviewed versions of the Article prior to publication, provided that the final Article is cited appropriately. Nothing herein shall permit dual publication in violation of journal ethical practices.
3. SAE reserves the right, notwithstanding acceptance, not to publish the Article if, for any reason, such publication would, in the reasonable judgment of SAE, result in legal liability or violation of Journal ethical practices.

Retained Rights

The Author or, if applicable, the Author's Employer retains all proprietary rights in addition to copyright, such as patent rights in any process, procedure, or article of manufacture described in the Article.

Permission to Publish

In order to facilitate dissemination of the Article, the Owner grants to SAE, during the full term of the Owner's copyright and any extensions or renewals, a non-exclusive license to publish the Article, and all rights therein, including but not limited to the right to publish, republish, transmit, sell, distribute, and otherwise use the Article in whole or in part in electronic and print editions of the Journal and in derivative works throughout the world, in all languages and in all media of expression now known or later developed and to license or permit others to do so.

Contributions Owned by Employer

If the Article was written by the Author in the course of the Author's employment (as a "work-made-for-hire" in the course of employment), the Article is owned by the Company/Institution, which must execute this Agreement (in addition to the Author). In such case, the Company/Institution hereby grants to SAE, during the full term of copyright, a non-exclusive license to publish the Article for the full term of copyright throughout the world as specified above. For Company-/Institution-owned work, signatures cannot be collected electronically, and so instead, please print off this Agreement, ask the appropriate person in the Company/Institution to sign the Agreement, as well as the Author, in the space provided below, and email a scanned copy of the signed Agreement to the Journal managing editor (managingeditor@sae.org).

Copyright Notice

The Author and/or the Company/Institution, owners of the copyright of the Article, agree that any and all copies of the Article or any part thereof distributed or posted by them in print or electronic format as permitted herein will include full copyright acknowledgement to the Owner and include full citation to the Journal as published by SAE.

Author's Representations

The Author represents that the Article is the Author's original work, all individuals identified as Authors actually contributed to the Article, and all individuals who contributed are included. If the Article was prepared jointly, the Author has informed the co-Authors of the terms of this Agreement and has obtained their written permission to execute this Agreement on their behalf. The Article is submitted only to this SAE Journal and has not been published before, has not been included in another manuscript, and is not currently under consideration or accepted for publication elsewhere. If excerpts from copyrighted works owned by third parties are included, the Author has obtained written permission from the copyright owner(s) for all uses as set forth in the Creative Commons license, and show credit to the source(s) in the Article. The Author also warrants that the Article and any submitted supporting information contains no libelous or unlawful statements, does not infringe upon the rights (including without limitation the copyright, patent, or trademark rights) or the privacy of others, and does not contain material or instructions that might cause harm or injury. The Author further warrants that there are no conflicts of interest relating to the Article, except as disclosed. Accordingly, the Author represents that the following information shall be clearly identified on the title page of the Article: (1) all financial and material support for the research and work; (2) any financial interests the Author or any co-Authors may have in companies or other entities that have an interest in the information in the Article or any submitted supporting information (e.g., grants, advisory boards, employment, consultancies, contracts, honoraria, royalties, expert testimony, partnerships, or stock ownership); and (3) indication of no such financial interest if appropriate.

The CC BY-NC-ND license allows users to copy and distribute the Article, provided this is not done for commercial purposes, and provided the user gives appropriate credit (with a link to the formal publication through the relevant DOI) and provides a link to the license, and that the licensor is not represented as endorsing the use made of the work. Any changes made to the original material must be disclosed. The full details of the license are available at <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/4.0/>.

Reversion of Rights

Articles may sometimes be accepted for publication but later rejected in the publication process, in which case all rights will revert to the Owner/Author.

I understand that no revisions, additional terms, or addenda to this Open Access Agreement can be accepted without the Journal's express written consent. I understand that this Open Access Agreement supersedes any previous agreements I have entered into with the Journal in relation to the Article from the date hereof.
